

A diverse world...a place for you at the table!

“We seek to form leaders who will be fluent, courageous spokespeople capable of being both insiders and outsiders...”

—PTS Strategic Plan

The L.I.V.E. Symposium is...

- a special event for prospective M.Div., M.A., and M.Div./M.A. dual-degree students to explore ministry opportunities and learn about theological education in a multicultural setting;
- a program for domestic students who are underrepresented in graduate theological education and who, as Latinas/os, African Americans, Native Americans, and Asian Americans, are discerning their vocation within the church; and
- an opportunity to converse with others who have a commitment to diversity and issues of multiculturalism, social justice, and reconciliation.

At the table you will...

- experience dynamic presentations on campus life from a diverse cross section of Seminary students, faculty, administrators, and alumni/ae;
- participate in seminars by our faculty on responding to a call in a multicultural and pluralistic society;
- hear a panel discussion by alumni/ae on vocational discernment;
- audit classes, meet professors, and share meals with the Seminary family; and
- visit an area ministry led by a Princeton Seminary alumnus/a.

To register, or learn more, visit www.ptsem.edu, click on “Admissions” then “Visiting PTS.” Find L.I.V.E. Symposium in the navigation bar and follow links to our online information request form.

Office of Multicultural Relations
Princeton Theological Seminary
1.800.622.6767, ext. 1941
multicultural@ptsem.edu